Message From Our President

Contributor : Marie Anderson

May President's message:

Warmest greetings to all of you!

Summer will be just days away as you read this although, as I write it is nearing 90 degrees and sunny so I'm fully in "summer mode" already! I'm not complaining...yet!

So much has happened in the last month that I need to share with you. First, since the state seems to be opening up again, I assume many of you are looking for an update on when we will FINALLY be able to get back together for in person meetings. The short answer is, not yet. I have met with the park district representative and there are some challenges that need to be addressed. Rest assured, we will update you as soon as I have more information to share.

Message From Our President

To those of you who attended our May meeting and watched the Alex Snodgrass bandsaw tune up demonstration - what did you think? Do we all have freshly tuned up bandsaws? I think we should all say thanks to Nate Wick for setting up this demo and of course our thanks to Alex Snodgrass for an excellent demo.

On May 16th & 23rd, several of our members participated in the Empty Bowls workdays held at the Chicago School of Woodworking. This is an on-going project and I hope that each of you will consider donating a bowl or two this year. Thank you to all who came to support this worthy cause.

Another exciting event that took place this month was the grand opening of the Fox Valley Gallery of Wood located at the Boardwalk Shops in downtown Batavia. Look for pictures and a brief article a bit later in the newsletter. Congratulations and best wishes to club members John Dillon, Rich Hall-Reppen, Richard Nye and Andy Kuby on your new business.

Message From Our President

I must apologize to you all. Did anyone notice that we did not have a Banjo Session this month? It was a momentary glitch. Somehow, with the holiday I completely blanked on sending out the meeting notice. My sincere apologies. The next Banjo session will be June 29th (rather than July 6th). I will send a reminder on Monday June 28th with the meeting link.

I know time is at a premium during the summer months, so I hope that you will make time to get to your lathes and turn something. It's good therapy! If you need inspiration - the challenge word pair announced at our May meeting is "Relaxed Current". These challenges are intended to sparks some creativity! So get out there and create something!

See you (Via Zoom) on June 15th.

Be safe, Marie

May Meeting

May 18th's virtual demonstration will be from Alex Snodgrass, for those of you that may have not heard of Alex before, he is considered the guru of Band saws. He has been working with hand saws for over 30 years and holds many band saw related patents. Working with Powermatic and Carter products he has helped develop Carter's Band Saw Stabilizer®, Quick Release® and the F.A.S.T. Fence Alignment System™. During his presentation he will be going over how to tune up your band saw, working through proper alignment and tensioning of a blade, properly setting up and using the blade guides. At the end of the set up Alex will be demonstrating how efficiently he can make a reindeer using a band saw. It is definitely something you do not want to miss.

Kimberly Winkle – Milk Paint

From Drab to Pizzazz: Milk Paint and Surface Embellishment: Kimberly Winkle

You keep hearing of Milk Paint over and over again but have no idea really what it is or how to begin using it, right? Kimberly will demystify Milk Paint. During the demonstration, students will learn how to properly mix, use, and explore the infinite possibilities of Milk Paint. Although Milk Paint is often associated with traditional furniture forms, the material can be used on practically any surface or format: metal, stretched canvas, bedroom walls, kitchen cabinets, toys, furniture... Your only limitation is your imagination. Milk Paint is incredibly durable, eco-friendly and comes in a delicious color palette. Students will learn how to use Milk Paint and to explore the wide range of visual possibilities. The techniques learned can be translated to any number of other projects or formats.

Youth Turning Educational Committee

WCWT member Dom Costabile hosts planning session for a youth turning educational committee.

On Jun 2nd Dom Costabile invited several WCWT members to his home to discuss the idea of starting an educational program for youth. While it is still very much in the conceptual stages, the meeting was very productive and it was decided to continue with some research on a list of challenges starting a program like this might meet.

In attendance were Mary Arp, Jack Hawkins, Dom Costabile, Frank Pagura and Marie Anderson. Everyone in attendance was fully vaccinated and it was great to sit down and talk turning in person! Thanks for hosting Dom!

FOX VALLEY GALLERY OF WOOD

Fox Valley Gallery of Wood Art Grand Opening!

On May 28, 2021, Windy City Woodturners members John Dillon, Rich Hall-Reppen, Andy Kuby, and Rich Nye opened the doors of their brand new gallery of wood art to the public for the very first time! The weather was cold, rainy and dreary but there was good foot traffic all day. Andy and Rich H-R assured me that they "felt the love" from our members who stopped by to wish them well. The weather improved Saturday and was darn near perfect on Sunday when I visited this lovely little gallery with fellow club member Dawn Herndon-Charles.

FOX VALLEY GALLERY OF WOOD

The Fox Valley Gallery of Wood Art is located in the Boardwalk Shops of downtown Batavia. The Boardwalk shops were developed as small business incubators to encourage new businesses to grow and rejuvenate downtown Batavia. The partners in FVGW have set a personal goal of promoting talented local wood artists (and since all of them fit the description, they will, of course, be moving some of their own overstock). I noticed work from many of our locals including an entire stand of beautifully embellished pendant necklaces made by Deb Hall-Reppen – you go girl! Among their offerings you will find, bowls and spheres, treenware, rolling pins, candle sticks, spurtles and spoons, yard games, gardening tools, pet urns, pens, boxes, wall sculptures, "boyds", bread and cutting boards, gnomes, purse mirrors, elegantly composed flowers, sculpture work, items embellished with milk paint, carving, epoxy resin, and pyrography and even earing stands. It's quite the variety and if you visit you most certainly can find something to take home to add to your collection. The inventory changes often so don't be a stranger. Get out there and support local! By the way, I understand that they are still jurying in artists' work into the gallery so if you are interested in selling your wares and haven't yet done so, drop them some high quality photos of your work. You never know, you just might find yourself represented by the newest wood art gallery in Illinois!

Heritage Society Christmas Ornament

Contributing Member: Don Johnston

The Corona Virus was responsible for a lot of cancellations in 2020, but not the 39th annual Lisle Heritage Society Christmas Ornament. When a skeleton committee met last spring in a Lisle park to talk ornaments, it was clear that we couldn't rely on Windy City meetings for production. We needed to skip a year or pick a design that would be simple to produce. Given 38 years of continuous history, there was a strong push produce #39 in the year it belonged. (Windy City has produced the turned forms for ornaments 34, 35, 36, and 38 starting in 2015.)

We decided on a small barn with silo pictured here. This design was selected because the shape and components were simple to produce. And historically there were many such barns on small farms in and around Lisle. We didn't require a lot of "manufacturers" to make 150 blanks. Fred Filipiak (a Heritage member) ripped gable-shaped strips, and chopped them into barn forms. Don Johnston cut some dowels to length and pointed them on his lathe for the silos. The big job of assembling and decorating the barn was left to only three members of the Heritage Society who mostly worked separately. The detail that really 'makes' the ornament is the overhanging roof that was fabricated and added by the decorating crew.

Heritage Society Christmas Ornament

Of course there were no events at the Museum in 2020 to sell #39. So they were offered on line at www.lisleheritagesociety.org -- $10. To date 75 have been sold. Organizers are cautiously hopeful that 2021 will again include some events at the museum. But so far there is only wishful thinking. Stay tuned.

A sad footnote: Carol Carls, a stalwart on the ornament committee passed away at Christmas time after a long battle with cancer. Her talents extended far beyond the Historical Society into the legitimate art world – she will be missed there too.

Empty Bowls

Hello all,

I am writing to let you know that prior to our next club meeting CWT will be hosting the first of two EB workdays. If you are willing and available to help out, please contact me for an available time slot as we will be limiting the number of people in the building at one time and will follow all social distancing guidelines to keep everyone as safe as possible. These are hands on events held at the Chicago School of Woodworking on Sunday, May 16th and Sunday, May 23rd from 9am until 2 or 3pm.

Plan to bring your tools as well as any finished donation items for Empty Bowls. Feel free to bring your own roughed out bowls or blanks to finish turn. (We will have a supply of roughed out bowl blanks available for those that need them.)

We will see you on May 18th for our regularly scheduled club meeting via zoom. Remember this month's demonstrator will be Alex Snodgrass who will be talking about tuning up your bandsaw. Alex is a professional and an extremely knowledgeable teacher. You don't want to miss this one!

The next Banjo Session will be held next month on June 1st at 6pm. Let me know if you have a topic you would like to discuss with the group.

Until then, Get to your lathe and create something!

Marie
