Message From Our President

July 2022

Hello everyone!

Well, some of us are just back from the AAW symposium in Chattanooga where we learned, we visited with old friends and met some new friends, we debated, we bid on (and in some cases won) some beautiful art; we may or may not have purchased a few items to improve our collective woodturning experience (and to say thank you and support the vendors who made it through the last couple years). We may or may not have indulged in fine food and spirits. We came home exhausted with stories to tell and techniques to try. Honestly, to me, that is exactly what a symposium is all about. I feel really blessed to be part of this wonderful community.

Upon arriving Thursday evening, we received the sad news that a good friend and long-time member of the Chicago Woodturners, Roger Basrak had passed. You may not have known this gentle giant, but if you did, you should consider yourself lucky, I know I do. As shock wore off, I found myself reflecting on all the friendships I have made by being a part of the woodturning world. As I wandered the instant gallery I noticed work from so many people that I now consider friends who I never would have met without woodturning. There were items turned and donated by some of our members at the Empty Bowls and Beads of Courage tables which filled me with a deep sense of pride. WCWT member Mark Jundanian received an award of excellence for the piece he displayed in the instant gallery last month. (Congratulations Mark!) Past president Jason Clark and past WCWT club secretary Mark Dreyer along with WCWT friend Jason Swanson were demonstrators and WCWT friend Roberto Ferrer was a panelist. We had multiple members volunteer in different capacities throughout the symposium. There were 3 tables at the Saturday banquet filled with people from Chicago (or in a couple of cases formerly from Chicago).

For those of you who could not attend the AAW symposium, all is not lost! You have an opportunity to join in the fun and learn A LOT about woodturning from some of the same demonstrators that were in Chattanooga at the end of this month right here in Northbrook. You still have time to register for the 2022 Turn On! Chicago symposium. Don't miss this opportunity to increase your woodturning network, meet new friends, collect some amazing art and of course, buy something from one of the outstanding vendors that will be there.

I think you will all agree with me that friendships that start with a conversation about woodturning might be some of the best friendships you will ever have. To some of us, there is no better way to meet some of the best folks around. To all of you who came into my life as part of my woodturning story, thank you for the meaningful and lasting friendships that we share. And to all of you who have not started a new conversation yet, what are you waiting for? A simple "Hi" could "turn" into a long-lasting friendship and let's be honest, this community is what keeps us coming back for more!

Hope to see all of you at the in-person meeting on Wednesday July 20th. For those who cannot make the in-person meeting, no worries, we will once again be hosting a hybrid meeting. A new zoom link will be forwarded via email before the meeting. Marie

\* DuPage County is still in "community high level". CDC advises that masks be worn for all indoor gatherings thus per our hosts' direction, we are required to wear masks inside the building until further notice during our meetings. We will once again offer a hybrid meeting broadcasting live to those who prefer to join via Zoom ***

Club News & Notes

AAW National Symposium
Chattanooga, TN

COMMENTS FROM MARK:

“Late Saturday afternoon I swung by the IG to see if any of my pieces had been selected for the IG Critique session and there was a paper notifying me that Sedona had been chosen. Cool, hopefully they’ll have more positive comments than negative ones....”

Then I noticed that next to that piece of paper was a blue ribbon laying on the table. My first reaction was “who left their ribbon here?”, then I realized it was an award, but I thought it must be for the turner next to me (who had a pretty spectacular piece). Then I realized that the ribbon was lying in front of Sedona, and that I had won an Excellence Award for Sedona. I was shocked, excited, and honored, but still in some disbelief. Still am.”

Women In Turning (WIT) News

From: Marie Anderson

News about Women In Turning

The WIT Committee once again broke new ground at the AAW symposium in Chattanooga by hosting the first hybrid session ever broadcast live via Zoom and in person at an AAW symposium. The session took place during the Thursday night special interest group sessions. It was a panel discussion of WIT Liaisons moderated via Zoom by WIT Committee member Robin McIntyre from her home in MA. There were over 30 women in attendance in the room and 13 zoom attendees.

The meeting opened with welcoming remarks by WIT Committee chair Kim Winkle who introduced the WIT Committee members and then handed it off to Committee member Andi Wolfe to act as on site MC. At the close of the meeting the WIT Committee gathered privately to present a well deserved thank you gift to Kathleen Duncan (Former WIT Committee Chair) that was then displayed in the instant gallery.

As the WIT liaison for WCWT, I am always looking for suggestions on what you would like from the WIT Committee, please reach out at any time to Marie Anderson.
